Checklist: How do I find books and articles from a reading list?

This section of CamGuides for Undergraduates introduced you to:

- What is distinctive about an academic resource
- How to evaluate resources for authority, purpose, currency, accuracy and relevance
- What a reading list may look like
- How to read a reference for a book, chapter, edited book and journal article.
- How to search for books and articles on iDiscover
- How to get access to physical and online resources
- Other resources that may appear on a reading list

You may find it helpful to tick off the pages you have covered, you could make a note of areas you wish to revisit once you are studying, or highlight topics you have yet to engage with.
