Reading Lists Online

Searching for a list

Unless you’ve already accessed a list through Moodle you’ll find that there aren’t any reading is associated with your account. So you’ll need to ‘Find lists’. From the ‘Find list’ screen you can choose by subject, and it may be that a particular list is associated with more than one subject, you can search by your Faculty or Department or you can search by an individual course title. In this case we’re searching for reading list associated with the Arctic. I found one list. I click on ‘Add’ and this is now added to my lists if I click on the title of that particular list it’ll take me through that I can see all the resources and you can see that there are a hundred and ninety items in this list and then when I go and click on lists you’ll now see that we’ve got one particular list associated with our account.
